King or Queen? King

Most Regal Habit

Sitting “Criss Cross Applesauce” with his nose in the air, while silently judging his human’s behavior.

Least Regal Habit

Professional counter surfer. No prepared food, nor ingredient is safe. Egg shells aren’t safe. And butter, well, that is his personal favorite.

Royal Decree: From the Perspective of Remy

Upon his coronation, His Majesty, King Remy “Lucky Paw” Underwood, ruler of the realm and protector of all lands, would hereby issue the following decree to all subjects of Apple Blossom:

1. Right to Unconditional Love and Affection:

All dogs within the kingdom shall be granted the inalienable right to receive endless love, care, and affection from their human counterparts. Humans shall recognize the importance of our loyalty and reciprocate with equal adoration. More belly rubs!

2. Mandatory Walks and Playtime:

Every dog shall be entitled to regular walks and playtime. Humans shall not neglect their duty to exercise their four-legged companions. That means you, Kyle - you need the exercise too) thus ensuring our physical and mental well-being.

3. All the Treats:

It is decreed that all dogs shall be provided with high-quality, delicious treats (that cater to our specific dietary needs, of course). And counter surfing is no longer a crime, rather encouraged.

5. Boundaries:

Canines no longer need to abide by arbitrary and invisible lines. As your faithful dogs, we are clearly invited to every private moment of your world, where you sleep- ours. Going to the bathroom - hey, me too! Everywhere you go, we go. (And don't go far... we will find you...!)
